

Medical billing is a complicated business.

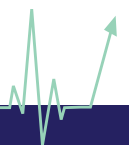

It requires a specialized, dedicated staff to do it efficiently. Physician Services, Inc. has over 30 years of experience in medical billing and a proven track record. It routinely carries net collection ratios in the high 90th percentile for its specialists. It does not focus on the "easy money." It works for every collectible dollar.

- Medical billing carries a substantial risk factor.
- Medicare and Medicaid audits take valuable time and expensive legal resources.
- Fines and recoupments from intentional or unintentional billing errors can be devastating.

For over 30 years, Physician Services has billed for doctors who realized that they could not effectively do it themselves.

By contracting with Physician Services, a physician's office is able to reduce overhead and maximize income. The practice can eliminate or reassign the billing staff and the associated salaries and benefits. It will reduce continuing education expense and staffing issues while freeing space in the office. All the while, Physician Services will be working to increase reimbursement by maximizing coding, utilizing incentive programs and increasing collections. Plus, the physician will have a partner to research coding issues, federal guidelines, billing problems and the like.

Physician Services can't eliminate all the risk in practicing medicine, but it can reduce your exposure.
